Correction: J Headache Pain 24, 105 (2023) https://doi.org/10.1186/s10194-023-01643-9

In the original version of this article [1], on page 2, in the second paragraph of the right-hand column, the text reads: " On the other hand, mutant mice carrying mutations, which cause partial loss-of-function of CaV2.1 channels and reduced K⁺-evoked glutamate rise, showed a lower CSD stimulation threshold" but it should have read: " On the other hand, mutant mice carrying mutations, which cause partial loss-of-function of CaV2.1 channels and reduced K+-evoked glutamate rise, showed an increased CSD stimulation threshold".

The original article has been corrected.
